200 SENATE BILLS IN MANDS COMMIT-TEES-NO WORK AS YET-REPUBLIS CANS CLAIM SENATE 1883-THE ARMY BILL-NOT A QUORUM OF DEMOCRATS -BALTO. SUN OF THE 29TH.

PENDING MATTERS IN THE SENATE. WASHINGTON, March 28 .- Although the committees of the Senate were all appointed a week ago, and although the two hundred or more bills which have been introduced to that body have been referred to the appropriate committees, no attempt has been made to take up business in committee, except in the investigation before the Wallace cemmittee and the New Hampshire senatorial case before the committee on privileges and elections. Very few of the committee have even had any meeting. This is due to the general indisposition which exists in the Senate to enter on any but the absolutely necessary business.

KELLOGG'S CASE. Certain considerations enter into the case of Mr. Kellogg which are likely to have a powerful influence in his favor, irrespective of the question of the legality of the Legislature from which he derives his credentials. If one point made by Judge Spofford can be sus-tained, to wit, that Mr. Kellogg paid money te individual members of the Packard Legislature for their votes for him as Senator, that would make a case which could not be defended by the Republican side of the Chamber. Mr. Kellogg expresses thorough contempt for this charge, and says that he can prove on Judge Spefford every charge of fraud and corruption made by that gentleman against him.

THE REPUBPICANS CLAIM THE SENATE FOR 1883. It is contended by the republicans, they will regain possession of the Senate in 1883, if not sooner, and they aver that if Mr. Kellogg is ousted they will retaliate by unseating a number of the Southern Senators, including Wade Hampton, Mr. Jonas, of Louisiana, and several others. These intimidations or threats are said to be prompted by Re-publican Senators of the first prominence, who maintain that the unseating of Mr. Kellegg on the ground that the Legislature which elected him was not a legal body will furnish a precea dent for them to do what is outlined The point made by the Republicans is that Mr. Kellogg's case was closed when he was adm.tted, and if it can be reopened, then also can the case of other Southern Senators be reopened. Both Mr. Conkling and Mr. Edmunds have expressed themselves most freely with regard to the proposed reopening of the Kellogg case, and it is known that they intend, if ever a report should be brought in from the committee on privileges and elections to unseat Mr. Kellogg, to make the most bitter and n the Senate on any issue between the two parties. The repudiating tendencies of the "regenerated" government of Louisiana will receive a fair share of attention from them. CONTESTS IN THE HOUSE. There were twenty-three contested election cases in the last House of Representatives. In this House there will be but eleven. The committee on elections, constituted with the usual membership, ought to be able to get through with these cases, and therefore there does not seem to be any necessity for increasing the number of members of the elections committee to nineteen, as was proposed the other day.

On his return he was question as to the kind of audiences he met on the other side of the mountains. "Oh," said he, "they vary greatly, you know. For instance, at Rome—a warm public, very warm—you can scarcely sing three notes when they begin to howl, and shout and throw at begin to howl, and shout and throw at you apples and oranges and actually—by Jove!—the very benches, in the most enthusiastic manner possible. At Turin, on the contrary, they wait until you are about half through the piece, and then the parterre begin to flow out, The boxes empty themselves, and the spectators all go out, one after another, without once lifting their voices. By Jove I hate those coal andiences."

Jove I hate those cool audiences!" How Pius IX. once neatly extricated himself from an embarrassing situation: The famous dancer, Fanny Elisler was at Rome during the first years of Pius IX.'s pontificate. Fanny's admirers, wishing to give her a keepsake, opened a subscription, which produced in ferty-eight bours about 12,000 francs. It was decided to buy a crown, worth that amount, at one of the leading jewelers, when it was ready to present to the danseuse, the subscribers, seized with some scruples, thought best to consult the Pope. An audience with the holy father was asked and freely granted. The subscriber who had the henor to make known these scruples to Pius IX., set great account by the good qualities of the great dancer's heart, which, he said, made her a very pious and charitable person.

Pius IX. answered. "I have no autherization to give you, nor prohibi-tion to make. I see no reason why I should oppose your plan. But it seems to me that you might have been better inspired in the selection of your gift. In my priest's simplicity, I have always thought that crowns were made for heads, and not for legs."

The crown was presented, but Fanny Ellsler, who had heard of the priest's remark, distributed the value of the gift among the poor of Rome, through the medium of the priests. Pius IX. learned of this, and meeting some days afterward one of the members of the deputation of subscribers, he said to him:

'You did well, after all, to give the crown to this woman; she has proved that she had more judgment in her legs than you had in your heads!"

Y. M. C. A .- SUDDEN AND UNEXPECTED DEATH OF A WORTHY CITIZEN. -SERI-OUS ACCIDENT TO A LADY.

Correspondence News. GEENSBORO, March 28. 1879. Just one year the Y. M. C. A. has been in operation, and the religious interest has been felt all the time, but more especially the past month or two, as shown in the large congregation on the Sabbath afternoon prayer meetings. Such has been the crowd, we had to move to the Benbow Hall. Last night was the anniversary, preparing for which several evenings had been spent in singing, led by Mrs. Holbrook, a teacher at the G. F. College, assisted by one of Waters fine organs.

Some very appropriate remarks were made by Judge R. P. Dick, Col. J. A. Gilmer, James M. Morehead and others. When W. E. Edwards, one of the oldest members, and a hard christian worker, arose and made a few very pleasant remarks, complimentary of the singing class and teacher, he sank down to his seat, saying oh my head, and we carried him to a near by drug store, where he died at 2 a. m. In life we are in the midst of death. How cheering and joyous was the meeting as expressed by all, and how soon were we shrouded in mourning for one whose voice had so often cheered us by his cheerful spirit, in prayer, praise and song. He was an Odd Fellow, Mason, Auctioneer, Good Templar, a member of the Y. M. C. A., and of the church; his bother being the Rev. John E. Edwards of Richmond, Virginia.

The Y. M. C. A. have been a power for good in our midst. There all feel so free and easy. A little long eared mule took fright at a cart in the street yesterday, throwing from the buggy a lady, breaking her thigh and aukie. The limb was set and spliutered, and she was cared for and sent home ten miles in the country. Easy expectoration increased power of the Lungs, and the subsidence of irritation, manifest from cessation of cough and the enjoyment of rest, are the rewards upon taking Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, by all consumptive patients. Price 25 cents. SUNDAY READING.

Life's pathway oft is marked by stone and thorn; But onward still I press, with hope, nor mourn, Though Jordan dark is nearing at my Above its value, a crown, my eyes doth greet.

As every pilgrim doth, I watch and wait. Oh! when for me shall you pearled jasper gate

A Wonderful Story.

AID FROM THE REGION OF SPIRITS. Atlanta Constitution, 28th. A day or two since we received in writing, from a gentieman of highest authority, the following stories (which he obtained direct from her tather) for publication. It appears that some time ago a gentleman, who was a man of property and a friend of the young lady, died. A short time ago the young lady received a message from him stating that if she would go to a certain place in the garden and dig in a certain way, she would find a diamond ring. As a mere experiment the young lady followed the directions given, and accompanied by friends went to the garden and told them where to dig. Her instructions were complied with, and at the very spot indicated a diamond ring of fine pattern was found. It was unearthed, given to the young lady and was valued by an expert at $125. A short time after this, a second message was received from the dead man, saying that if the young lady would follow his directions she would find a diamond ring of even greater value than the flist. The directions were more complicated than before. The main point, however, was to go to a large oak tree, with a hollow in it. The young lady was instructed to put her hand within this hollow, and hold it there for some time. She did as di-rected, being as before accompanied by spectators. She put her hand in the trunk of the tree and after holds ing it there a moment withdrew it hastily, saying, "I've got it." She fell back very much prostrated, and open-ing her hand showed a glittering diamond, being of more than double the value of the first. It is said that just before she withdrew her hand a rumbling, heavy sound was heard within the tree, being plainly audible to the

The New York World.

From the Worl 1 March 25.h. In this the last month or so a singular prophecy of an impending and very radical change in the ownership and conduct of the World has been traveling about the country from East to West and from North to South through the columns of such a number of its esteemed contemporaries that some curiosity was awakened in its mind as to its possible origin. This curiosity having been gratified by a telegram published in a North Carolina newspaper, which attributed the prophecy to that most experienced and most entertaing of modern travelerss. M. Du Chaillu, the editor of the World, who has long enjoyed the pleasure and advantage of a triendly acquaintance with that gentleman at once despatched a reporter in quest of him. It seemed to the editor of the World worth while to ascertain whether the African gorilla, with whose habits and capacities no man is so familiar as M. Du Chaillu, might not have suddenly developed into a brilliant and success fnl rival of the least informed and most communicative New York correspondent of the provincial press. In compliance with instructions the reporter dispatched in quest of M. Du Chaillu makes the following report: TO THE EDITOR OF THE WORLD: "Sir: I yesterday called upon M. Paul Du Chaillu and asked him, as I was directed by you to do, to read the

But be cannot dismiss the incident without availing himself of the legitimate opportunity which it affords him of expressing his obligations to the general public for its obligations to the general public for its cordial and liberal recognition during the past three years of his efforts to maintain and defend in the columns of The World the sound Democrats political principals which be believes to be easential to the greatness and prosparity of the country, without blindly litical principals which be believes to be essential to the greatness and pros-perity of the country, without blindly adhereing to the interests or concerning himself with the intrigues of any man or set of men within the Democratic party.

> > A Rome Scandal,

THE ARREST OF THE AMERICAN CONSUL FOR DRUNKENNESS IN THE STREET. Home Journal. As no carnival scene would be com-plete without its special story of social scandal, we have just had ours at the proper time, and this time it affects the American colony of Rome especially. The scandal affects the American consulate at Rome. Charges are said to have been preferred against the consul and forwarded to the State department at Washington for having been found in a state of intoxication in one of the streets of Rome by a policeman and duly arreested for said offence. Let it be remarked here, en passant, that the offence of intoxication in the public streets is one of the most infrequent here before the courts, and therefore troublesome diseases. creates especial comment. True it is, beyond question, that charges were duty preferred, and the policeman who made the arrest was ordered to attend for examination. Our United States minister was notified and expected to to continue its use until a cure is effectbe present at the examination, especied if possible. Send worth of the enbe present at the examination, especially also because he, Mr. Marsu, undersclosed P. O. order immediately. cousul does not in the least. But Mr. Marsh is a great invalid and hence could not attend. The examination was however, proceeded with and the charges forwarded. Great efforts have been made to suppress these facts, but of no avail. Patriotic speeches have been tried, with what effect it is yet to be seen. Since the facts have become known the nerves of some of the pious people of the American colony have been shocked and the thing has been once a prospect for a good and excellent harvest for this society in the consular office of the United States.

Four thousand dollars of the Republican campaign fund was spent in the 1st, 2nd and 5th Congressional districts of North Carolina in the last election, Five hundred dollars was used in Scales' district; five bundred in Yeates' district, and three thousand in the black district. Kitchens' election against such odds is the greatest political achievement in the history of onr State politics.

TRE preliminary question to be settled in the contested election case between O'Hara and Capt. Kitchen is O'Hara's right to contest. That O'Hara is not a citizen of the United States seems to be established by irrefutable proof. This point settled against him, the contest ends. The gallant Kitchen will not only occupy his seat in the 46th Congress, but will, we trust, be his own successor in the 47th Congress.

The British Government bought 176,602 shares in 1875. which are now worth $5,000,000 more than when Beaconsfield took them. The canal is without locks, and the man who manged it from the first says a canal across the isthmus of Panama must be similarly constructed to pay.

> THEY have got what is called 'Southern Republican Association" in Washington. One McLindsey, of North Carolina is at the head of it. It is a "stalwart" movement in the interest of the hungry fellows who compose it. At a meeting of the Association Wednesday night, Martin of this State was orator. An outline of his remarks is elsewhere given. Martin is the same fellow that a few Democrats in the 1st District voted for against Yeates. About the time his case was pending before the State Returning Board he was charged by Republican sheets with selling out to the Democrats. The guileless Martin is now restored to full fellowship with his party.

THE country very naturally feels deeply interested in the grave political agitation at Washington. A dead-lock between the Legislative and Executive will bear as hard on one side as the departments of the Government cannot result in good to either political party; certainty in no good to the Sengovernmental functions should never ators Anthony, Edmunds and Conkparticular election. To these propositions the democratic party, during its long probation as a minority party, is fully committed. What it was right to insist upon as a minority it is right for them to act upon when they are in a majority. By their conduct for many years the democrats in Congress are hardly in a position at this time to insist upon their right to engraft the proposed repeals upon the appropriation bills. It is common to sneer at Mr. Bayard as being "over nice" in differing with his party on political questions. But the thinkint people of the country are manifesting deep concern in Mr. Bayard's receng utterances both in the Senate and the councils of his party.

MARTIN's canvass in the 1st dis'rigt" has hardly been forgotten. His speeches were inot partizan, occupying that high place above party. Like a disappeared from the path, he was a little fellow by the name of Brown in good deal perplexed. He roared with one of the wesrern districts, he warned the people against the cry of "party, party, party." Martin is too small potato to be made conspicuous by newsprper notice, but his recent performance in Washington deserves the merest mention. No doubt some few Democrats voted for him. They will relish the following extract from a speech made by h'm at a meeting of Southern Repubican dead beats in Washington last Wednesday night. We copy from the Washington Republican: Hon. J. J. Martin, of North Carolina was introduced to the association, na was introduced to the association, and made a spiritual speech, during plucky and ingenious little bushman THE late accident on the Elevated which he said that the Democrats in the present House of Representatives to the attempt to run through trains on although they knew him to be legally had thrown Mr. Bisbee out of his seat the different branches of the road as elected, and had installed a man named Hull, over whom an indictment was now hanging, and who the speaker hoped and expected would shortly be put in the penitentiary, where he be-longed. Whenever the Democrats can, they count or cheat. In his own district they had thrown out 400 votes, but, luckily, this was not enough to defeat him. Had there been railread and telegraph lines, however, the result might have been different. He was in favor of every man voting as he pleased, but there must be a free and that the accident was due entirely to sult might have been different. He pleased, but there must be a free and fair election. This had not been perthis ought to be everywhere interdict- mitted in the South, and the day would come when a proper and just retribution would fall upon the people who had prevented it. He would not and could not believe that the people of South Carolina had voted according to their convictions simply because Wade Hampton said so. The policy in that State had been, "If we cannot succeed with the ballot, let us try the rifle, machinery on the way for obtaining shotgun, and club." The latter manner in which large Republican majorities had overcome the South. In concluding the speaker advised the members of the association to work in harmony, as there would be a great deal of work to be done in 1880. He did not know who was to be the standardbearer of the Republicans, but, whoever it was, he would be successful.

Wilson Advance. It depends altogether upon whose bull is gored. Who ever heard of a Democrat being appointed to office by the Republican party, when, even a a third rate Republican could be found who would accept the office? The Democratic party for eighteen long years have felt the unjust oppression and submitted to the insults of the Republican majority, and now, when the tables are turned, and the Re-publicans are in the minority, it seems to us the height of impudence, that they should attempt to dictate any longer, the policy which the Demos States. The adoption of the 13, 14 and cratic party, now in the majority should pursue.

It is understood that during the discussion the feeling prevailed, although no expression was given to it, that ulimately the Demo-crats would succeed in their purposes either through the active or passive assent of the President, but the determination was to make the fight as vigorous and as protracted as possible, irrespective of this. It was said that the clause in the army bill containing the political features had been made much more comprehensive than it was in the army bill as passed by the last House, and that if it was passed and the bill became a law it would give to the Democrats everything that they wanted, and they would not need to make any fight on the legislative, exo-cutive and judiciary bill. The determination that the Republicans should make more pairs, will be a source of much personal inconvenience, but it

The bushman, the magnificent body of men forming the Irish constabulary force, number figures at the present moment may be largely increased, the volunteer returns of 1878 alone showing an increase of which in the present Afghan campaign has shown its courage and will-ingness to share in our fighting work. It may fairly be presumed that in case of any serious war with any great power, or threat of invasion, these num-bers could be materially increased if not actually doubled, so that the ballot act, which has never been repealed but simply suspended from year to year, would hardly be likely to be called into force.—London Week.

TARBORO, N. C., 1818.

DR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Der Sir,—I feel very grateful for what your valuable medicine, Vegetine, has done in my family. I wish to express my thanks by inderming you of the wonderful care of my son; also, to let you know that Vegetine is the best medicine I ever saw for Chills, Shakes, Fever and Ague. My son was sick with measles in 1873, which left him with Hip-joint disease. My son suffered a great deal of pain, all of the time; the pain was so great he did not him but cry. The doctors did not help him a particle, he could not lift his foot from the floor, he could not move without crutches. I read your advertisement in the "Louisville Lourier-Journal," that Vegetine was a great Blood Puriner and Blood Food. I tried one bottle, which was a great benefit. He kept on with the medicine, gradually gaining. He has taken eighteen bottles in all, and he is completely restored to health, walks without crutches or cane. He is twenty years of age. I have a younger son, fifteen years of age, who is subject to chills. Whenever he feels one coming on, he comes in, takes a does of Vegetine and that is the last of the Chill. Vegetine leaves no bad effect upon the system like the most of the mildelines recommended for Chills. I cheerfully recommended to Chill. I cheerfully recommended for Chills. I cheerfully recommended for Chills. Respectfully, MRS. J. W. LLOYD.

"If." BY MRS. J. M. WINTON. If, sitting with his little worn-out shoe And scarlet stocking on my knee,
I knew the little feet had pattered through

The pearl-set gates 'tween heav'n and me,

I could be reconciled and happy, too,

And look with glad eyes to'rd the jasper sea.

If, in the morning when the song of Reminds me of a music far more I listen for his pretty broken words,

If I could know those little feet were In sandols wrought of light of better And that the footprints of a tender

"A Little Gem of a Woman," Hurrying down the street the other evening, these words caught my ear. I looked up as the speaker passed me, and saw a tall robust honest looking young man, who had evidently addressed his companion, who was apparently younger somewhat than him-

Having ascertained only this, the crowd took them and bore them away. Still the words, a little gem of a woman, kept floating in my mind. From it sprang visions of a nice, warm, cosy home, with welcoming lights in the window, a delicious supper in waiting, everthing neat and tidy, a rosy-cheeked bright-eyed little woman-"a little gem of a woman,' watching impatientv for the absent husband—for he was a husband, for he stepped like a prince, and seemed in great anxiety to get ahead. Yes, a young husband; all day long he had been hard at work, dreaming of his bright little women who would welcome him in the shadcws of evening with her sweetest kiss.

How he longed for home-how anxiously he counted the hours, working faithfully all the time. How eagerly he hurried onward with the jostling crowd. No fear to him of a disorderlykitchen, a littered parlor, a slovenly wife. This 'little gem of a wo-

MEDICINES.

45 Years Before the Public. THE CENUINE DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

DAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain. accompanied with a dull, heavy sen-sation in the back part. There is gen-erally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLane's Liver Pills, in CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL. For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are un-

FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers. Insist upon having the genuine Dr. C. McLane's LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of instations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all nature of the system and in review to each enly wife. This "little gem of a women" always keeps his home inviting.

I wonder what this waiting wife would think, could she have heard that remark as I did. Wouldn't her cheeks burn some, and wouldn't her eyes shipe tenfold brighter! Don't tell me it was nothing but mere nonsense. It would have been better than gold to that loving woman's heart. It is nothing to a woman to be brized. an excess of the; and the effect of even a few doses upon yelle w complexion or a brown dirty looking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking Herratins in accordance with directions. Headache is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given. SOLD AS A SUBSTITUTE FOR PILLS

Congress.

House.—The question raised by Reagen yesterday, to the effect that there were no rules governing the action of this House (none having yet been formally adopted) was brought up by the Speaker immediately after the reading of the journal. The Speaker said he was not present yesterday at the time the point was made in the Committee of the Whole, and be stated that under rule 147 of the rules of the preceeding House were declared to be the rules of every succeeding House until other-wise ordered. He quoted the ruling of Speaker Grow on that subject, and said he was not aware of any other ruling at variance with it. Its reason and object were to furnish the House with a set of regular rules instead of committing it to the wide sea of parliamentary laws. The subject was discussed at considerable length.

The House at 12:40 went into com mittee of the whole on the Army Appropriation bill and the discussion was resumed, Stephens, of Georgia, open-ing it. He argued in favor of relevancy and admissibility of the section but intimated his dissent from the theory that the rules of one House governed the succeeding House unless readopted. There was no question in his mind but that the pending section was germane and was in the direction of retrenching expenditure. Retrenchment was not only possible and proba-ble but certain. He discussed the laws of 1795 and 1807 and argued that they did not apply to the use of troops in civil cases but only in cases of invasion and insurrection. In civil cases the troops were furnished on the call of the marshal as posse comitatus. But such a provision as the authorized presence of troops at the polls never existed on the statute book until 1865, and all the change of legislation proposed by the section in question was the repeal of that law. Public sentiment north and south was against the employment of troops at polls. There was no need for such a thing. country had got along without it for three quarters of a century. There would be no harm done therefore by the repeal of the law. Mr. Stephens spoke for over 20 minutes in a strong clear voice and attracted great attention. After an argument by Reed, of Maine, against the section and in support of a point of order, the Chairman made a decision overruling the point of order and holding that the section was germane and would retrench expenses. An appeal was taken and a decision sustained-125 to 107. General discus sion was then opened by Garfield, the agreement being that no vote can be taken to-day. Later Garfield made a very strong speech against the policy of the Democratic party in declaring it to be utterly revolutionary and tending to the subversion of the Government. He showed how by the abstention of a majority in either House from the performance of their legislative duties the Government could be broken up, and declared that this was the first time in two centuries in England that it had been proposed and insisted upon that those voluntary p wers should be used for the destruction of the Government, and yet that was the programme announced to the American people to-day. If the pending proposition was the simplest and most inoffensive, still when it was demanded as a matter of coercion it had to be resisted. It was not against the proposition itself but against the Democratic methods he spoke, and what was law, on the repeal of which Democrats now insisted at the very peril of the national life. It was the law proposed by the Democratic Senator (Powell, of Ky.,) reported against by the Republican committee and passed both Houses by a majority of the Democratic votes. The majority of Republican votes being against it. He named as voting for it, Senators Hendricks, of Indiana, Davis, Ky., Johnson, Md., McDowell, of California, and among the Democratic Representatives, Randall, of Pa., Wood, of N. Y., and Pendleton, of Ohio. The speech created much sensation.

Foreign. LONDON, March 29 .- The Sportsman says the weather on the Type side yesterday was a great improvement upon that experienced during the past week and Honlan and Howden put in some strong work. The latter was first to show affoat in the forenoon. After sculling steady up to Leamington Point turned and came back at fair pace to head off Meadows. On his way back he met Honlan, the pair having met on the river for the first time and bad a square look at each other and Howdon threw out a kind challenge to his opponent by quickening his pace to 38 strokes which made his boat move in a beautiful style, Honfan quickening his stroke considerably and moved away from the Delaval sculler in style and which would not give the latter mean impression of his powers. Honlan continued his pull down into the Meadows.

Getting Ready For 1880.

Chicago Tribune. More demand for books relating to the civil war is reported by the Librarian of Congress since the beginning of the present session than at any time since 1865. Due probably to Logan's advent. The statesman who mastered the whole subject of finance in a two week's study is undoubtedly "cramming" again.

A $1,500.000 Tunnel.

springfield Republican. The $1,500,000 tunnel Vanderbilt is o put under the Detroit river at Grosse Isle is rather a grievance to Detroit. That city has proposed to bridge or tunnel the river herself, but she has been forestalled by this double track tunnel, 20 miles below the city, at the present Canada Southern crossing. The focus of all through lines will naturally gravitate from Detroit to the tunnel, and the ultimate tendency will be to lessen Detroit's importance as a commercial and distributing point. As for Vanderbilt, his lines will have a safe connection with Chicago over the Michigan Southern road. The tunnel will also remove the ferry slips at Grosse Isle, which have contracted the rivers flow and called forth the energetic protests of ship-owners, and will also do away with the present risk of detention by ice in the winter months, which has proved a detriment to both passenger and live-stock traffic.

The President Shaky.

Baltimore Sun, 28th. Experienced members of Congress expressed the opinion to-day that, even under the most favorable circumstances, Congress is not likely to be able to adjourn in less than three weeks from this time. It was said in well informed quarters to-day that there was not much reason to doubt now that the appropriation bills, with the political features attached, would become laws either with or without the signature of the President; that there was a strong probability that if he could not bring himself to the point of affixing his sig-nature to the bills he would permit them to become laws by allowing the constitutional limit of ten days to expire without returning them. These views are only matters of opinion, but they are received with confidence, and so strong has the impression taken hold of the stalwart republicans that the Pdesident is "shaky" that they go up to the White House in troops every day to expostulate with him and stiffen him up.

The Danger of Kerosene Lamps In view of the fact that Kerosene oil is now so generally used for lights, especially since the rise in the price of gas, the following from a medical jours nal is particularly worthy of attention A merchant returned home about 2 o'clock at night and found his wife lying on the bed groaning heavily, and unconscious. She was awaiting his return, and at last tired out, laid herself on the bed, after turning down the wick of a lighted keresene lamp as low as possible without extinguishing it. In this position of the wick, if the oil is ad, a vapor mixed with an innumerable quantity of specks of sut diffuses itself through the apartment and so covers the eyes, nose and respiratory organs, that on falling asleep one runs the risk of suffocation. It is always advisable, therefore, in the use of kerosene lamps to allow the wick to burn brightly or extinguish it entirely.— Charlotte Observer Pratt's Astral oil is absolutely safe under all circumstances. Burns in any lamp without smoke or smell. Julius Lewis & Co., sole agents, Raleigh, N.
